

End Use and End User Certification

The products provided by M3 Technology may be subject to one or more of the Global Trade Regulations of the United States and other governmental authorities. This includes but is not limited to the Arms Export Control Act, The Export Administration Act, and the International Traffic in Arms Regulations. In addition, M3 Technology is bound by the regulations of the Office of Foreign Assets Control and the various sanction regimes, end user and end use restrictions and other applicable regulations of the United States State Department, the Department of the Treasury, Department of Defense and Department of Commerce.

In providing information and signing below, you are certifying that your company will abide by all applicable regulations, in addition to those in any additional country involved in the transaction. No party to the transaction shall be in violation of the applicable regulations, or otherwise sanctioned or proscribed by the government of the United States, and any discovery that such a party is involved shall be immediately disclosed to M3 Technology.

M3 Technology may provide information related to the Schedule B, Harmonized Tariff System Number, Export Control Classification Number ("ECCN") and/or Munitions List category for product supplied for informational purposes only. By providing this information, M3 Technology does not intend to provide legal advice with regard to any export transaction. Exporters are responsible for ensuring that they comply with all applicable U.S. laws that govern exports. You may wish to obtain advice on export controls from a specialist. In signing you agree to obtain and manage all necessary licenses to export and/or receive the product unless M3 Technology specifically identifies itself as the Exporter of Record and U.S. Principal Party of Interest and agrees to obtain necessary licensing from the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls, the Bureau of Industry and Security or other applicable body.
